KEYSTONE DEMOCRACY.

Wallace and Randall Factions Lock Horns at Harrisburg.

But Peace and Serenity, Prevail in the End.

National Associated Press to the Star.

HARRISBURG, PA., April 28.—All day long yesterday the active adherents of the two Democratic factions in Pennsylvania were alternately quarreling and attempt-ing to harmonize in anticipation of the State Convention to-day. Senator Wallace and his staff were first on the ground. Speaker Randall, accompanied by friends, got in from Washington at 10 o'clock last night. Both were confident of supremacy, but neither has neglected any step to solid-ify their positions. The principal cause of ify their positions. The principal cause of difference on the organization of the Convention has been the presence of rival delegations from Philidelphia, each claiming seats. The one, known as the McGowan delegation, is the adherent to Senator Wallace, while the other, known as the Vaux, favors Speaker Randall.

In addition to these, numerous other con-tests appeared, and there seemed to be such a hopeless tangle that Lewis Cassidy and others insisted upon some arrangement that others insisted upon some arrangement that would prevent a double convention, which seemed imminent. A basis of compromise has been drawn up to admit one-half of each of the Philadelphia delegations, and that neither side shall insist upon instructions to delegates to Cincinnati, leaving the question of a unit rule to be decided by the te of the Convention. This will probably be accepted.

Tilden has an agent here, and a wire has heen run into the Bolton House connecting with Gramercy Park. Tammany Hall siso has an agent here named McClosky, who is keeping close watch on the movements of the Tilden men.

To-night delegates from several Congressional Districts are holding caucuses to determine upon a delegation to Cincin-nati, but the result will not be made known.

HARRISBURG, April 28-12 M.-It is freely charged now that attempts are being made mitted. The tickets were not issued to the delegates until 11 o'clock, although plenty were exhibited on the streets by friends of and devoted to the best manner of running Mr. Tilden.

This has occasioned a little feeling. But twenty-nine press tickets have been issued, and the leading New York and Philadelphia papers, which have sent more than one staff correspondent, were refused more than one ticket. There is a great deal of growling and muttering going on, but the indications all point to Randall's defeat.

2 P. M.-Wallace and Randall shook hands in the hall previous to the assembling Greenville, Meriwether County, after being of the Convention at 1 o'clock. The calling of the roll was then ordered, when Lewis Cassidy arose and announced that he had glad tidings to bring the Convention, that the bad temper and impetuosity had given way to a season, that the trouble in Philadelphia had been settled upon an honorable basis. Randall and Wallace both made conciliatory speeches, which were received with cheers, and the Convention adjourned to 5 o'clock.

A MEXICAN MIX.

Slight Confusion of Parties on the Rio Grande.

Special to the Star.

San Antonio, Tex., April 28.-An Express Eagle Pass special says: On Saturday morning two Mexican soldiers deserted from Piedras Negras, and attempted to swim the Rio Grande to the Texas side. They were pursued by a Lieutenant Colonel and Captain of the Mexican Army. They overtook one of the deserters and forced him to return. The other was overtaken at the office of the Customs Collector on the Texas side, where the pursuing officers were themselves arrested by Deputy Sheriff Beacom and inspector Buchel. The horses and arms were seized by the Custom House authorities for violation of the revenue laws, they having fired shots on American soil at the deserters, one of the shots slightly wounding a Mexican woman. During the excitement the Mexican troops fired several shots, all striking on this side. The officers had a partial examination and gave bonds to appear before the District

THE PREMONITORY SYMPTOMS. Special to the Star.

Columbus, April 28.—The premonitory symptoms of the Republican Convention are peculiar. The question of candidates upon the State ticket is completely overcast by the Presidential contest. Each candidate is laboring assiduously for his own benefit, but as yet no delegations seem to have begun trading or even working in behalf of their particular choice. The interest in the Sherman-Blaine fight absorbs all attention and the nominees are left drifting with a current of their own creation.

At 8 o'clock last evening the Blaine delegates to the number of one hundred met in the Board of Trade Room, and their action foreshadows in unmistakable outlines a harmonious Convention. T. C. Campbell, of Cincinnati, was made Chairman, and I. F. Mack, of Sandusky, acted as Sec retary.

Major James F. Sarratt of Steubenville, I. F. Mack of Sandusky, and Gen. S. H. Hurst of Chillicothe, were appointed a committee to select delegates at large for the Chicago Convention. They reported the following names, which were adopted:

Delegates-Gen. John Beatty of Colum bus, W. B. Shattue of Cincinnati, Frederick Wickham of Huron, and L. P. Bradbury of Meigs.

Alternates-Gen. W. H. Gibson of Sen eca, Edward Cowles of Cleveland, W. S. Reteron of Trumbull, and Nelson Turney Electors-Alphonso Taft of Cincinnati, and Gov. Wm. Dennison of Columbus. I. F. Mack offered as a resolution that under no circumstances should the friends of Jas. G. Blaine yield to any dictation from any quarter as to the action of the District Delegates to the Chicago Convention.

Adopted. The Blaine men claim six Districts yet -the Starke, Ashtabula Toledo, Sandusky, Gurnsey and Licking, with the last two inneed of careful nursing. The second choice is all Sherman, but the next gentleman of the Shermanites is Grant.

SHERMAN SECRET CONCLAVE.

The Sherman leaders held a secret conclave at the Railroad Commissioner's office at 10 o'clock. The discussion was desultory the Convention. The only definable conclusion reached was to run it for Sherman. An informal ballot was taken for delegates at large, and Bateman, Dennison, Garfield and Foster selected. Gen. Robinson acted as Chairman. Congressman McKindley, who will be Temporary Chairman, has a long key-note prepared. John R. Malloy, of Columbus, will be Temporary Secretary.

A CONVENTION AND A CIRCUS. 9:30 A. M.—The morning opens beautifully, and circus and Convention bave crowded the streets. The status of the various candidates has not changed, and the only movement in the Presidential question is a more solid crystalization for Sherman. The district delegations are in session now and balloting for members of the various Committees, Delegates and Vice President for the Convention. The organization will scarcely be complete by the hour of the Convention assembling. The First and Second Districts met in the Governor's offices. The First are having a quiet election, but in the Second a stormy scene ensued over the consideration of Ampt's contest in the Fourteenth Ward. It was referred to the Credential Committee of the Convention.

FIRST, LAST AND ALL THE TIME. The Sixth District has instructed for Blaine, first, last and all the time, CONVENTION CALLED TO ORDER.

The Convention assembled at 11 o'clock at Comstock's Opera-house. Every available seat was occupied. The Barracks Band was stationed in the gallery. The Convention was called to order by Chairman Conger, of the Central Committee, He invoked the delegates to make no mistake in this critical period. Prayer was offered by Rev. B. W. Arnett, the colored divine, of Columbus.

Congressman Wm. McKinley, of the Seventh District, was introduced as Temporary Chairman, and John R. Mailov, of Franklin, made Temporary Secretary. He thought that a more critical juncture never confronted the Republican party. The duty to be performed was a delicate one. Ohio had no cliques or factions, but the Convention's act would be the will of the people. The Democratic party wish to get control in defiance of the popular will. It sought to buy Electoral votes in Louisiana and Oregon in 1876, and annul the popular will by fraud. His reference to the Democratic trouble in Maine and the heroism of its Republican leaders, was received with great applause. He reviewed the frauds of the Tilden campaign. This was the last Presidential election under the census of 1871, and the increased representation under the new census of the West, and the decreased power of the Solid South. After reviewing the record of the Re- Kashgar.

publican party he began an eulogy upon PRESBYTERIAN WOMEN. name was met with uproarious cheers. He was named for President and the en-thusiasm lasted for five minutes. McKinley said if the nomination should fall upon that great soldier, Grant-when an embryo shout in the gallery was prompily hissedhisses and cheers continued for some time. The mention of Blaine's name provoked almost equal applause. The sentiment that Ohio should support the Chicago nominee was loudly cheered. Frank Arnold, of Franklin, David Lewis, of Hardin, Harry W. Kirby, of Carroll, James Bindley, ot Hamilton, and George Riddle, of Champaign, were made Assistant Secretaries. The districts were then called for Committee on Credentials, Resolutions, Permanent Organization, member of State

Central Committee and a Vice President. The two delegates and alternates from each district were also announced. The list of alternates was not complete. The list of the two important committees and delegates to Chicago is as follows:

He made reference to Sherman, which was attended with mingled shouts and hisses. Some man shouted that he was the Eagle of the First District. He had spoken thirty minutes.

The Committee on Credentials reported Licking County. Adopted.

Warner M. Bateman read a resolution reaffirming the Republican platform of the National Government favoring free schools, free Constitutional rights to all citizens, and that the whole power of the Government should be used to maintain them; condemning the attempted Democratic nullification of the election laws; in favor of a maintenance of sound currency redeem able in coin, eulogizing John Sherman [tremendous and lasting cheering and the wildest demonstrations], and presenting him as a fit candidate for President and respectfully urging his nomination upon the party at Chicago; instructing the Delegates-at-large in his favor, and requesting the District Delegates to vote for him; indorsing Hayes' Administration, and urging united action to elect the Republican nomination. A motion to vote seriatim on the resolutions was lost. The division did not alter the result.

T. C. Campbell attempted to get a memo risl from the Cincinnati Grant Club read, and great confusion arose. Motions were made to refer it, and to send it to a committee of three without reading. It was referred to the Resolution Committee, and Kalloch-De Young. National Associated Press to the Star.

San Francisco, April 28.—The inquest was concluded late last evening. The Cor-oner's Jury rendered a verdict that De Young was murdered by Kalloch, and the result seems to meet general satisfaction here. One witness, who had given a false name in the first narration, testified that De Young fired the first shot, although De Young's pistol, which was produced in Court, when examined showed that no cartridge had been exploded. All the other witnesses testified positively that the only shooting was by Kalloch.

Cutting Off Their Corn. National Associated Press to the Star.

St. Perenssung, April 28.-The Russian Government has taken steps to prevent the exportation of corn from Kuldija, a city of the Chinese Empire, in Soongaria, to Kashgar, a city in Chinese Turkestan, where a large Chinese garrison is located, occupying the citadel at that place, Kashgarihos, also a large Chinese population besides the troops, and these have depended on Kuldija for grain supplies. The latter place possesses extensive granaries and is population of the South would break the able, unless forcibly prevented, to maintain without difficuty the Chinese troops at Mrs. Z. M. Humphrey, of Walnut Hills, delivered the address of welcome in behalf of the churches of the city.

She compared the occasion with the reunion of a victorious army, all enraged in the same cause, fighting the same enemy, and all rejoicing in the success of their army of noble women. But this meeting was something more than a reanion of an carthly army. It was a Christian welcome to this city. It was a welcome to the joys and sorrows which the members of such an organization most need, and it was a welcome not city to the celebration of victories already gained, but to the work yet to be done before the enemy would be conquered.

Mrs. D. A. Cunningham made the response,

Mrs. D. A. Cunningham made the response, thanking the ladies of the city for their condistreception, enumerating some of the duties of the Society, and speaking in glowing terms of the members who had died during the year, and of those who were not able to be present.
